A CD-ROM supplementing the material presented in the popular University of Wisconsin short-course, Performance Development of Internal Combustion Engines, is now available.

Each of the slides used in the course is included in full color. Many additional slides and photographs have been added to further enhance the text.

Seventeen chapters of detailed explanatory text have been written, and the CD has been designed to easily page between text and full-screen figure viewing.

Five video clips have been included to further enhance the explanations provided in the text. The video clips include both computational and photographic images.

The CD is priced at $95. To order your copy call 1-800-462-0876, and request product #E439. Or Contact Kevin Hoag at 608-263-1610 to learn more about this product or inquire about bulk order prices.
